ARITHMETIC TESTS CHILD PERSONALITY

Most Significant of All Studies; Psychologist

Waukegan, Ill., May 9.—If your boy likes arithmetic, it's a good indication he has an effective personality, a child psychologist said today.

Dr. Martin L. Reynert, incoming president of the boy brothers and sisters association of Illinois and director of the laboratory for child research, Moline, Ill., said that in child personality tests arithmetic was the "most significant of all the studies, especially among the boys."

Arithmetic represents a set of habits which are of basic importance in dealing with other people and, equally, not only in such simple acts as sharing the cost of a luncheon, but in keeping score in the household budget, in business in a thousand and one social situations.

Dr. Reynert said that doing well in arithmetic tests found in the laboratory was found to be a good indication of a child's personality. He said that the child who does well in arithmetic is usually a child who is also a good student in other subjects.

Hennepin Canal Modernization is Contemplated

Washington, May 10.—Army engineers are indicating that the Hennepin canal in Illinois may be commercially important enough in five years to justify cost of modernizing it, engineers learned today.

For the present they do not want to spend any money for its maintenance, their chief said in the published record of hearings by a House appropriations subcommittee.

Major General Julian L. Snelly, head of the engineers corps, differed with Representative Dicken (R-Ill.) over whether there should be an appropriation for maintenance of the waterway.

Dicken contended the locks would fall into disrepair and it would be costly to get them functioning again. He wanted the subcommittee to include an item of $150,000 for maintenance of the canal, which connects the upper Mississippi and the Illinois rivers.

General Snelly explained that the war department's recommendation was to hold the land which the government has, to keep its investment, and not to discontinue its operation.

"The canal was built, you might say, ahead of its time. It is now entirely out of date as to its dimensions and size of locks. The two streams it connects were not improved coincidentally, so the canal did not connect anything on which there was much commerce."

He added, however, that "the chances seem to be that within the next few years there will be a great deal of commerce between the two streams which will develop to the point where perhaps it will be a good investment for the government to modernize the canal."

Dicken told the committee members Illinois would take the canal if the federal government would give it to the state but that the state could not spend money on it while it was a federal project.

"Since the war department will not transfer the canal to the state, they are still charged with the responsibility, and ought to take care of it," Dicken argued.

Chicago, May 10.—(UP)—Joseph Du Brook, 38, canal engineer, was shot and killed today in an argument with two men in a north side hotel. The killer escaped.

Du Brook and Roy Lear, orchestra leader, were seated in the hotel coffee shop when two men approached them and shot Du Brook in the shoulder. Lear told police one of the men pulled a glass of water on Du Brook.

Lear said he went to the lobby and was followed by the two men. He was turned and saw one of them draw a gun and strike Du Brook in the head. Lear said he was shot in the shoulder.

Police held two hotel guests for questioning. Lear failed to identify either of them.

Du Brook's home is in Menomonee, Mich. Lear is from Rock Island, Ill. The orchestra had been playing engagements at Chicago hotels.
